

Sweets and goodies, Earth Day and Colonial games to be featured at Dover, Del.'s John Dickinson Plantation

-Listing of plantation events through August 2014 also included-

During the month of April 2014, the John Dickinson Plantation, located at 340 Kitts Hummock Rd. in Dover, Del., will present four special programs that explore different aspects of everyday life as it would have been lived during the 18th century when John Dickinson was in residence at the property. The site will also be open for visitation and tours between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Admission is free. For additional information, call 302-739-3277.

On Saturday, April 5, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., the plantation will present "An 18th Century Sweet Tooth," a hands-on workshop in which visitors will learn how to create 18th-century sweets and goodies; while on Saturday, April 19, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., visitors can explore the natural beauty at the home of the "Penman of the Revolution" and enjoy tours of the colonial-revival garden and the kitchen herb-and-vegetable garden during a special Earth Day program. Finally, on Saturday, April 26, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., the plantation will present Colonial Games Day in which visitors will have an opportunity to experience the fun and exercise of 18th- and 19th-century games including rolling hoops, ring toss and game of graces.

The John Dickinson Plantation was the boyhood home and country estate of John Dickinson, one of the founding fathers of the United States, signer of the U.S. Constitution and “Penman of the Revolution.” The plantation features Dickinson’s original 1740 brick home, reconstructed farm buildings and a log’d dwelling, surrounded by rich agricultural lands stretching down to the banks of the St. Jones River.

Following is a schedule of plantation events through August

2014. All programs take place at the John Dickinson Plantation, 340 Kitts Hummock Road, Dover, Del. The property is open Wednesday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Times for special programs are indicated. Admission is free for all events listed. For additional information, call 302-739-3277.
